

Instruction

Recognition of Variety of Beliefs and Customs

The instructional program of the schools should honor the varied beliefs and customs of our racial and ethnic heritages. Instruction should be designed to broaden student appreciation and understanding. All materials should reflect the cultural diversity of the District and community.

Legal Reference: Wisconsin Statute 121.02 (1) (h)

Policy adopted: April 11, 1977

Policy edited: August 21, 2000

Administrative Regulation revised: July 16, 2018