

Instruction

School Psychological Services

School psychologists provide diagnostic assessment, program planning and consultation services to all students. Individual psychological evaluations and consultations are considered on a referral basis for all school-age children in homeschool, residential treatment, public and private school settings in early childhood through twelfth grades and all students suspected of having a disability that are District residents ages three to twenty-one. Evaluations are conducted, with written parent or legal guardian consent, to address educationally relevant needs and programming. When advisable, school psychologists shall make recommendations for corrective services or appropriate instructional placement.

Legal Reference: Wisconsin Statutes, Chapter 115, Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction Regulations and Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction approved local regulations.

Policy adopted: April 11, 1977

Policy edited: August 21, 2000

Administrative Regulation revised: August 20, 2018