Pupil Referrals for Support Services

School staff may refer a pupil to other specialists such as the reading specialist on the District staff if such assistance seems indicated. Referrals may also be made to individuals, agencies or institutions in the community for additional support. Examples of such referrals might be to persons who can give specialized career information, information concerning employment or the military, etc. In referrals where counseling on personal problems is involved, the school staff will contact the parent personally before any appointment is made. Providing information about community resources shall not be considered a referral.
